VIOLENT STORM ZAPS AREA

At least 6 lightening bolts were reported to have struck buildings in Mattapoisett during the Saturday night and early Sunday morning storm. Firemen were kept busy responding to alarms. The most serious fire was reported to Raymond Buckley's home on Acushnet Road. Several television sets were cooked by surges of electricity in the lines and power was out in some parts of the village about 3 1/2 hours.

Sunday brought more hot and humid weather to the area. People swarmed to the Mattapoisett Town Beach only to be turned away. Al Boucher, beach director, noticed some foreign matter and color in the swimming area and called in the Board of Health. Dr. Harold Woodcock took water samples to be analyzed. The town beach was closed all day while results were awaited. The test showed that detergent was the cause and it is believed to be from a tanker dumping near or in the canal that has caused havoc with Cape Cod resort areas. Although not clear, the water is completely safe and the beach opened on Monday morning.

Two weeks ago, tests were taken on waters in the harbor at Aucoot, Harbor Beach and all conformed to safety standards of the Public Health Department.

People, deprived of the town beach on Sunday, swam at Ned's Point.

The rock pile, called a beach at Ned's Point, has received little or no attention but should. In the early afternoon, the water at the lighthouse was clear but the murk spread by mid-afternoon. The mid-afternoon thunderstorm ended the beach trials for the day.

The rig above is working now in the Mattapoisett River valley and indications are excellent to date for Mattapoisett's future water needs. This 8" shaft will give a true test of the capacity and a series of samples will be taken during the 7-day pumping test. If all results are favorable then the 24-inch gravel packed well will be installed. The expected yield of the finished well is 600 to 700 gallons per minute.

THE CIRCUS IS COMING!

The delightful, exciting "Royal Ranch Wild West Circus", touring Massachusetts during the month of August, has recently released its schedule, and area residents must be keenly pleased to learn that Mattapoisett has been selected as one of the thirty special chosen statewide sites.

On Tuesday, August 11th, there will be two rousing performances of the Circus, at 2:00 P.M. and 8:00 P.M., featuring all the traditional color and constant animation of the Big Top. This one-day stand is offered for your viewing on Mahoney's Meadow, Route 6, in Mattapoisett, across the road from the Texaco Station.

Seating under the Big Top is limited to 1,500 people per performance, so the purchase of advance tickets is strongly urged, in view of the fact that this event is being promoted throughout the entire Greater New Bedford area, from Westport to Wareham.

To assure admittance for your family, you may make advance reservations by phoning the following Mattapoisett numbers: 6609, 2898, 2786.

The regular monthly meeting of Rochester Woman's Club was called to order by the president, Mrs. Wesley Davoll. Twenty-one members and guests enjoyed cool ocean breezes, a pleasant walk along the beach and a delectable supper served by Mrs. Margaret Benner and committee at her cottage in South Dartmouth.

Members agreed that a regular club meeting should be held in September.

Mrs. Greenwood Hartley reported that the smorgasbord supper had been a success. Small bills are still pending and a few needed kitchen utensils had been purchased.

Mrs. Paul Gayoski was voted into club membership.

Mrs. Davoll reminded members about the annual club calendar project and asked the help of members in conducting same.

The next regular club meeting will be August 6th at Mrs. Greenwood Hartley's cottage in Marion.

The annual summer auction will be held August 17th, at 7:00 P.M. at the clubhouse in Rochester.

Crescent Beach

Dr. and Mrs. James Bonner, Jr. and children are visiting his parents this week at Crescent Beach. Dr. Bonner is now affiliated with Massachusetts General Hospital. They will be residing in Westwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perkins of Wollaston Beach are visiting his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Perkins. Mr. Perkins is a member of the Boston Postal Service.

Anyone missing a platter or bowls contact Mrs. Perkins, Channel Street.

Thanks again for help received at the covered dish supper. A special thanks to Mrs. Joseph Pacheco, Florence Taylor and Mickey Flynn.

Many thanks again to those who helped last Sunday to rake the seaweed from the beach. We would have liked to have seen more workers. Come on, let's all show some association spirit. Some don't pay their dues, some don't work. This does not make a good association. We cannot accomplish our goals under these conditions.

To those who cooperated thanks again.

Bandstand

BUILD A BETTER BANDSTAND

The management of the Mattapoisett A & P store recently donated space to the Mattapoisett Band Committee to display a set of four commemorative tiles which are "token of appreciation" gifts to contributors of $10. or more towards raising a fund to "Help Build a Better Bandstand". In charge of the display was Mrs. Donald H. Finley. She was assisted by some members of the Fireside and Pilgrim Youth Fellowships of the Congregational Church. They were Brian Roderick, Sarah Flanders, Gail Chase and Richard Flanders. These volunteer workers accepted contributions to the fund. A list of pledgers was also accepted.

For those interested in seeing the tiles, the following places of business have them on display: The Boutique on Water Street, Kay's Knit 'N Sew Shop on Park Street and the Village Delicatessen on County Road.

For those interested in seeing the commemorative gift of the walnut-finish director's chair which bears the imprint of the new bandstand on royal blue canvas, we urge them to drop by at the Symphony Shop on Route 6. The number of chairs is limit-
